CONTENTS

ARTICLES

131 Exercise for Children
   William L. Risser

141 Health-Related Fitness as Preventive Medicine
   R. Joe Jopling

149 Stimulation of Preterm Infants
   Tiffany Field

155 Adoption: New Tasks for the Pediatrician
   Roy C. Haberkern

ABSTRACTS

140 Enzyme Multipled Immunoassay Test

140 Mothering Abilities of Adolescents

153 VATER Association

159 Children of Depressed Parents

Cover: Boy With Baseball, by George Luks (American artist of the Ash Can school—1867-1933). Son of a physician from Williamsport, PA, he studied art in Philadelphia and Europe before settling in New York, where he worked as a newspaper illustrator and cartoonist. Then he pursued a career as a painter. His work, like the other Ash Can artists, depicted life in the raw. Boy With Baseball, done in the early 20th century, is illustrative of his work. This appealing portrait of a street urchin, done in broad brush strokes, with a baseball, symbolizes the all-American game. This is an appropriate motif for PREP 2-year 4, when sports medicine and physical fitness are special topics for review.