MOC | CME | Board Review
New! Stay current in pediatric pulmonology with the online self-assessment program that delivers clinically relevant, peer-reviewed questions, in-depth discussions of preferred answers, and references for further study – all mapped to the ABP pediatric pulmonology content specifications.

Prep Pulmonology is approved for 20 points by the American Board of Pediatrics (ABP) for MOC Part 2: Lifelong Learning and Self-Assessment.

The online activity is the best way for me to learn because all the questions are presented as scenarios. I am able to learn much better from this type of format rather than reading a review of a topic, which I will later forget.”
